

Wine Garage Summer Shipping Options

We have been working with another shipper to try and find a summer solution. DDC has been trying to work with their carriers for a long time to come up with a solution to summer shipping and hopefully reducing heat holds. This is the first year they are offering this and we are so excited to be offering our members a few solutions for summer shipping! Below are three different couriers that will be offering a summer shipping solution for summer shipping.*

FedEx is offering an awesome solution for all wine compliant states. The packages will be placed in a temperature-controlled container; average temperature is 57 degrees and will be transported by air and by truck. They are then held in refrigerated containers until being loaded on delivery trucks. FedEx is offering a delivery time of 10:30am on temperature-controlled shipments. This service has a 4-5 day transit time. The Mid-West deliveries will be delivered to the customer on Wednesdays and the East Coast deliveries will be to the customer on Thursdays.

UPS will offer temperature controlled shipping to TX, NY, FL and IL. Delivery to each state will cycle weekly during the summer months. These shipments have the same rules and regulations as ground shipments. The packages will be picked up and placed on refrigerated cargo trailers. They will then transport via train to the hub destination. Finally they are placed on a delivery truck for delivery as usual. Delivery times are the same as any ground shipment. We feel this service would be best for packages going to a business to ensure an earlier delivery time. This is a 4-5 day transit time.

DDC is also going to offer way to ship your package. This will be a special rate for summer only. We are offering a Next Day Air Service that guarantees your package will arrive by 5:00pm. If your package is sent to a business it has a better chance of getting there earlier in the day. This is also great since it is a one-day transit time.

***All packages can have ice packs added for an additional $1.50. Most packages only need one to two depending on package size.***

*All Wine Garage Summer Clubs will use FedEx for their summer shipping, unless otherwise requested by club member.
